What are the Different Face Shapes? (with pictures)

Human face shapes do not always fit neatly into geometric categories, but five main facial shapes are considered to represent the outline of many faces. These five shapes are: square, triangular, oblong, round and oval. Knowing the approximate shape of your face can help you find a flattering hairstyle, pair of eyeglasses and clothing neckline.

Face (geometry) - Wikipedia

In solid geometry, a face is a flat surface that forms part of the boundary of a solid object; a three-dimensional solid bounded exclusively by flat faces is a polyhedron. In more technical treatments of the geometry of polyhedra and higher-dimensional polytopes, the term is also used to mean an element of any dimension of a more general polytope (in any number of dimensions).
